

Re-thinking Today's Values: a new way to view yesterday's values in the context of today's world

Andrew Welch gave a two-hour presentation on this topic for our organization's Public Lecture on February 10 in Halifax.

Seniors College Association of Nova Scotia (SCANS) is a registered non-profit volunteer organization providing affordable non-credit academic courses to seniors (50+) in Nova Scotia. In addition to the 6-week courses offered to our members in fall, winter and spring at five different locations in the province, we schedule two public lectures each term on a variety of topics. Those who attend may be members or not, these lectures are free. We hope the topics and the presentations will encourage others to consider joining us.

Because our Public Lectures draw a mix of attendees, we encourage written feedback comments from the audience. Eighty people attended the recent Andrew Welch lecture. Their reaction was overwhelmingly positive. Attendees gave it a top rating on a 1 to 5 scale, and supported that opinion with accompanying comments.

Here are some quotes:

"The speaker is gifted at presenting his topic and engaging his audience."

"A dynamic, engaging and high-energy presentation."

"Excellent speaker, thought-provoking."

"An excellent presentation on such a timely and relevant topic."

As an organization we were very pleased with the quality and delivery of this lecture by Mr. Welch.
